

Justin Cook is a Jackson-native and has been at the Office of State Public Defender since January of 2008. He received his undergraduate degree from the College of Charleston in Charleston, South Carolina. Justin attended law school at the University of Mississippi. He currently serves as the president of the Mississippi Public Defenders Association.